FACILITIES & DISASTER
Preparedness Summit

The Westin Jekyll Island
April 13 - 15, 2022

GENERAL INFORMATION

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION

Georgia Public Library Service recognizes, values, and actively affirms the dignity of those it serves, regardless of heritage, education, beliefs, race, income, religion, gender, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, and physical or mental capabilities. GPLS welcomes and respects the diversity of our patrons and employees, and is committed to equal opportunity in the development of our policies, programs, procedures, and practices. GPLS condemns racism and violence in all its forms, and commits to honest reflection and the support of racial equity initiatives in public libraries.

RESTROOMS

Restrooms are located by The Reserve restaurant, as well as by the hotel pool.

INTERNET ACCESS

Complimentary guest wifi is available from the Westin in both the conference meeting spaces and the hotel rooms.

WELCOME

On behalf of the Georgia Public Library Service, welcome to the 2022 Facilities and Disaster Preparedness Summit! Our mission at GPLS is to empower libraries to improve the lives of all Georgians, and one of the ways we can do that is by helping our libraries prepare for the worst.

It goes without saying that the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic has changed our understanding of what "the worst" can be. Today's libraries must prepare not only for natural disasters and extreme weather, but also for public health crises and a host of other unprecedented possibilities.

While it is impossible to know exactly what the future holds, we can make ourselves ready. Here at the 2022 Facilities and Disaster Preparedness Summit, that is precisely what we will do.

Our approach will be twofold: We will consider how the design and structure of your building will impact your emergency response plans, and we will consider ways to integrate myriad disaster preparedness plans - including those for climate and pandemic-related emergencies - with the goal of preventing costly changes or threatening situations down the road. By the end of this conference, you will be equipped with the information resources you need to begin, renew, or revisit your emergency response processes at your home institutions.

This program would not be possible without the support of several individuals, including State Librarian Julie Walker and Assistant State Librarian Ben Carter. Their belief in the importance of this work is why we are here today. Thanks to the staff of the Westin Jekyll Island, who continue to be excellent partners to Georgia's public libraries. Additional thanks to Beverly Arnold, Kristine Kobylus, Greg Meeler, and DeBorah Wilson from USG's Conference and Meeting Services department, and to our speakers and presenters who have volunteered their valuable time and expertise to be here.

Finally, we strongly encourage you to spend time talking with the vendors you see exhibiting here this week. They have boots-on-the-ground experience to share, and their products and services will be valuable when you need them most.

Go forth!
Nate Rall, Executive Director of Planning and Programs
Angela Stanley, Director of Archival Services and Digital Initiatives

Jekyll Island Map

WELCOME

Few places on earth are more inviting. From our sprawling beaches to our historic trails, Jekyll Island is a beautiful blend of serenity and discovery. A canopy of live oaks will draw you in. Stories of lavish banquets will please your curiosity. Driftwood skeletons will forever be etched in your memory. Whether it's a peaceful stroll down one of our expansive beaches, an invigorating bike ride through 20 miles of paths and trails, or an inspiring journey through decades gone by, we hope this guide will help lead you to unique experiences you'll only find here.

Georgia Public Library Service
georgialibraries.org

Georgia Public Library Service empowers libraries to improve the lives of all Georgians. We provide innovative, scalable library technology and services; staff training and best practices; grant administration and more to create equity in library experience for patrons, no matter where they live. We also work with elected officials to ensure they understand the critical role that libraries play in meeting the immediate and long-term needs of citizens. Georgia Public Library Service is the state library administrative agency and a unit of the Board of Regents, University System of Georgia.

Johnson-Laux Construction JOHNSON LAUX
johnson-laux.com CONSTRUCTION

At Johnson-Laux, customer service is at the forefront of every project. This is on display throughout our list of Multiple or Single Award Task Order, Job Order Contracts, and eziQC through our Sourcewell Cooperative Purchasing contracts. These contracts allow large facilities owners such as government entities, school systems, and libraries to maintain their construction needs. No company is suited better to provide the service and attention our clients deserve through these contracts.

Vivre Interiors
vivreinteriors.com

Vivre Interiors is a full-service Interior Design firm that specializes in Library design. After over a decade in Library design, my focus is on helping you create a fully functional and aesthetically pleasing space that fully embodies your community. Through my company and expertise in Library design, I have also created a program for Library professionals that will teach you how to use the tools I've created to design your own Library at your own pace.

This program was supported by Georgia Public Library Service with funding from the American Rescue Plan Act distributed through the Institute of Museum and Library Services. Georgia Public Library Service is the state library administrative agency and a unit of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia.
